

Eva K. Betz

Yankee at Molokai

By Eva K. Betz

As a daring soldier in the Union Army, Ira Dutton earned the respect and affection of the men around him. Handsome and affable, he could have had a full social life when the war was over. But he felt that his "wild years" demanded atonement - and where could that better be found than in Molokai, where the ailing Father Damien Needed help?

So he made a free gift of himself, his strength and his capacity for love. Deeply patriotic, he cultivated in his charges devotion to America. A vivid exciting story. (Summary from an original jacket.)

Read by Maria Therese. Total Running Time: 02:39:48

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture from original jacket.
Cover design by Maria Therese

LibriVox

Yankee at Molokai

Eva K. Betz

Yankee at Molokai